

International Titles

2016 Rights & Licenses

www.internationaltitles.com

For additional information or a reading copy of any title, please contact:

Loris Essary, Director
International Titles
931 East 56th Street
Austin, Texas 78751-1724 USA
Email: loris@internationaltitles.com
www.internationaltitles.com

2016 Rights & Licenses

AIDS / Memoir

- Snippets from the Trenches, a mother's AIDS memoir
Freda Wagman

A time line of the twelve-year journey of the author's son living with HIV/AIDS.

Upon learning of his diagnosis early in 1983, she joined the fledgling AIDS Foundation Houston. Throughout the book, she tells of her involvement in helping other people, along with the hope of learning how to deal with her own impending loss. Of course, as the reader finds, one is never prepared for that.

The book chronicles the author's personal growth while monitoring her only child's health and that of numerous people with AIDS whom she had grown to love. Even her fellow volunteers were succumbing to the illness, magnifying the sorrow to even greater levels.

"The book you sent me is wonderfully written. I'm not a bit surprised that Foreword Magazine designated it the book of the year,"—Marion Roach Smith, heard daily on 'The Naturalist's Datebook' (Martha Stewart Living Radio) and author of The Memoir Project, A Thoroughly Non-Standardized Text for Writing & Life.

Susan Choi, Pulitzer Prize Finalist, *American Woman: "The really extraordinary thing about this book is that it tells the story of how one mother embarked on her feverish course of involvement in the AIDS community, in large part to help herself come to terms with the possibility of her son's death.

"But all that work really doesn't prepare her. She becomes incredibly intimate with a series of strangers, yet she and her son have more and more trouble talking about

HIS illness, which is the reason she is doing all this in the first place.

"She becomes indispensable at the bedsides of countless other people, but when Gary is dying she feels helpless, disconnected and as if she'd never set foot in an AIDS hospital room.

"What is moving about this book is the fact that all this preparation doesn't prepare, because NOTHING can prepare her.

"An unflinching, heartbreaking memoir. A testament to one woman's bravery and caring in the face of tragedy."—Follow the Sun.

"A powerful and moving portrait of the limits of humanity and the many faces of AIDS. Written with a profoundly empathetic voice."—Pressque Editing.

Go to <http://video.yahoo.com/watch/4968051?fr=yvmf> for a Snippets video trailer
Soft cover, 258 pages. U.S. price $18. Freda Wagman. Chinese rights sold; all other rights available.

Antiques / Collecting / Antique Silver

- All About Antique Silver with International Hallmarks
Diana Sanders Cinamon

An easy-to-follow guide into the world of antique silver.

"This book is different and you should own it."—Dean Six, Editor, Silver Magazine.

This is the most comprehensive book on antique silver on the market today, generously illustrated with 146 pictures and up-to-date silver hallmarks for 24 countries.

The appendix includes the British Design Registry System, United States Utility and Design Patent Numbers, a table of conversions, and Vienna Hallmarking Convention information.

You will want to carry this book around with you as a quick reference guide.

"...Great value for beginning silver enthusiasts, but it also includes information that would be of use for advanced collectors and dealers."—Dean Six.

"The more experienced collector and appraiser may particularly appreciate the last two-thirds of the book, which illustrates a good collection of hallmarks for European countries and Great Britain.

“The French and English hallmarks in particular are easier to read than those found in respective hallmark bibles, Tardy and Bradbury.”—Martin Fuller, GG, reviewer, National Association of Jewelry Appraisers.

“Clear and well-formatted, All About Antique Silver provides a good reference source for International silver marks, including the more modern marks lacking from [a number of prominent] standards ... A useful quick guide.”—Kerry Shrives, silver appraiser, ‘Antiques Roadshow’.

Author Diana Sanders Cinamon holds numerous professional appraisal certifications for antique silver and antique jewelry.

Soft cover, 269 pages. U.S. price $39.95. AAA Publishing. All rights available.

Crime / True Crime, Prison

• In the Spider’s Web

Jerome Gold

In the Spider’s Web is set in Ash Meadow, a prison for children in Washington State. The story centers on Caitlin Weber, a girl, who, in collusion with her mother and four other children, murdered her mother’s employer. While this book falls within the genre of “true crime,” it is not with the commission of the murder that the story is primarily concerned. Rather it is what happens afterward, particularly to Caitlin, that is the focus.

Arrested less than a week following the murder, Caitlin and her best friend, Sonia, are charged as adults and each sentenced to 22 years in prison. Caitlin was 13 years old when she helped kill the victim; Sonia was 14 years and one week old. Neither had been in legal trouble before. Upon sentencing, they were sent to Ash Meadow where they would stay until they turned 18. Then they would be transferred to “Purdy,” a prison for adult women, to serve the remainder of their sentences.

In the Spider’s Web focuses on Caitlin’s experience in Ash Meadow and on her relationship with Jerry, her rehabilitation counselor (and the author of this book).

Part One of the book provides the reader a feel for the prison environment that awaits Caitlin, and introduces the reader to the staff and inmates of the Maximum Security unit where Caitlin will live for most of her time in Ash Meadow. The first part also introduces the reader to the relationships between staff, and between staff and the administrators who govern the prison, all of which will have an effect on Caitlin.

Part Two begins with Caitlin’s arrival at the prison and the start of her relationship with Jerry. The relationship is rocky at first because Jerry has the same name and is around the same age as the man she killed.

Although Jerry does not know this at first, Caitlin is effectively haunted by her victim. She is assailed by guilt over what she did, and anger toward her mother whose idea the murder was. She struggles with depression and has contemplated suicide. She wants to deny responsibility for her role in the murder and resents Jerry for bringing up the past when she wants to forget it. But as their relationship progresses, they develop respect and even love for each other—she for him because he does not judge her and because she senses that in some way he is like her; he for her because, despite her sometimes feeling overwhelmed by prison life, something in her insists that she keep trying to better herself, to make life tolerable for herself even in confinement. He is the surrogate for the father who abandoned her when she was small, and she is the daughter he lost when he was divorced.

Eventually Caitlin is transferred to the adult prison at Purdy and Jerry resigns from his job. In an epilogue, the reader sees that their relationship, while transformed, continues.

Note: In the Spider’s Web is the second book to be published concerning the author’s experience as a counselor in Ash Meadow. The first book was published in 2009 under the title Paranoia & Heartbreak: Fifteen Years in a Juvenile Facility. A third book is scheduled for publication in 2017.

Publication Date: May, 2015

Softcover, 214 pages. U.S. price $14.95. Black Heron Press. All rights available.

Education

• A Thinker’s Daily Challenge™

Ken Havelock

“In an era of mindless distractions Ken Havelock’s new book A Thinker’s Daily Challenge is a refreshing intellectual delight! It contains a host of stimulating activities. Learning is exciting and fun, and can even be addictive, and this is deftly demonstrated in this unique book. A Thinker’s Daily Challenge clearly reminds us that there is much we need to know and learn!”—Professor Philip Bigler, 1998 National Teacher of the Year and popular author of historical non-fiction.

Young and old alike love ‘quiz shows,’ and Ken Havelock’s book provides a similar experience in the form of a budding book series!

Volume 1 masters the formula of ‘making learning fun!’ The volume follows a unique ‘daily format’ as it offers four months of daily challenges, plus two dozen bonuses, and covers geography, history, and the sciences. It features rebus and word-finder puzzles, image identifications (in b/w and color), short stories, questions presented in a number of formats, and many surprises.

It can justifiably be said that this book series brings our fascinating world to your doorstep, no matter what corner of the earth an individual calls home.

Author Ken Havelock's widespread interests have taken him many places, and include securing the US and Canadian utility patents for his invention 'arm-tray for wheelchair.'

Softcover, 184 pages. U.S. price $19.95. Howlite Press. All rights available.

Esoteric / New Age, Metaphysical, Spiritual • Jewel in the Lotus, The Tantric Path to Higher Consciousness

Sunyata Saraswati and Bodhi Avinasha

A complete and systematic course in the science of Tantric Kriya Yoga.

Soft cover, 196 pages, $12. International Titles.

French, Italian, Polish, Czech, Bulgarian, Croatian and Spanish rights sold; all other rights available.

Esoteric / Spiritual

• Anchoring the Light Body on Earth Nada-Yolanda

Esoteric teachings and interdimensional communications present clear, unparalleled guidelines on how to recognize and work with the immortal, resurrected, light body of the I Am Self, as demonstrated by Christ Jesus.

Travel back in time two thousand years. Imagine yourself in the Upper Room, sitting at the feet of the Master, the resurrected Christ, Jesus of Nazareth. Bask in the radiance of his materialized presence. Hear his illuminating words, given then to a few disciples. Receive his inner teaching, the true meaning of his resurrection into the light body, the spiritual or ascended form of his I Am Self.

So it is now. Anchoring the Light Body on Earth reveals the sacred wisdom that Christ Jesus imparts to all who are ready to follow his pattern in reevolving into cosmic consciousness. Herein are the keys you need to understand, and to prepare for, the demonstration of your own immortal, etheric, fourth dimensional, resurrected, light body.

The time is ripe. In these Latter Days, light workers throughout the planet are undergoing a spiritual regeneration that will lead all mankind into the fourth dimension, a new heaven on a new Earth.

We are preparing the force field for the redescent of our planetary way shower, Sananda, in his light body as Christ Jesus. Copartners in the Second Coming, we are called to anchor our light bodies on Earth in order to lift mass consciousness for this prophesied event. As we ascend, Sananda descends.

In the Upper Room of your consciousness, the resurrected Christ, your own I Am presence, awaits you. Seated at the feet of the Master — and at the feet of all ascended beings ready to instruct you — open your mind and heart to the adventure of a lifetime: anchoring your light body on Earth!

Contents: Two Sections:

Rediscover Your Light Body presents an unparalleled primer for understanding the nature and function of our fourth dimensional, immortal, resurrected form through which we express fully our Christ powers and talents as children of Father-Mother God.

No other guidebook offers such a clear and succinct teaching on the light body. It provides important historical context, as well as guidelines on how to recognize and to work with light-body contact. Six chapters also contain helpful visualizations and questions for all truth seekers.

Channelings. Selected by El Morya/Mark in 1975 from among thousands of channelings delivered through Nada-Yolanda, 84 pertinent communications flesh out a basic understanding of the light body.

The messages reveal how the ascended masters carefully have laid out a step-by-step program for the light workers, guiding them to anchor their light bodies on Earth in preparation for the Second Coming.

Soft cover, 344 pages. U.S. price $20. Mark-Age. All rights available.

Esoteric / Spiritual

• Cosmic Laws Nada-Yolanda

In the esoteric genre, Cosmic Laws is an unparalleled primer of universal teachings. Based on New Age channelings via Nada-Yolanda, Cosmic Laws reveals 23 basic spiritual principles and correlates them with the world's major philosophies and religions.

No matter our spiritual pathway, to attain enlightenment we must know and apply the universal laws that govern our lives throughout eternity.

Included laws are: Oneness; Individuality; Polarity; Love; Creation; Integration; Transmutation; Sacrifice; Equality; Give & Take; Free Will; Noninterference; Order; Cause & Effect (Karma); Reincarnation; Growth & Evolution; Attraction & Repulsion; Righteousness; Example; Balance & Harmony; Compensation; Life; Perfection.

In 1956-58, Nada-Yolanda had a profound, startling, spiritual awakening and has devoted over forty-five years as the cofounder and primary channel for the I AM Nation through Mark-Age, Inc. She toured and lectured around the world about the Second Coming of I Am consciousness on Earth and the promise of the return of her master teacher, Sananda-Jesus the Christ.

Cosmic Laws is our premier primer of universal teachings!

Soft cover, 161 pages, glossary. U.S. price $15. Mark-Age, Inc. All rights available.

Esoteric / Spiritual

• How to Do All Things, Your Use of Divine Power Mark Age

Master your life. Help change the world. Discover a new way to solve your problems and reach your goals. Be all you were created to be: a spiritual being with unlimited resources and talents.

You are a child of God, the Source of all power, wisdom, healing and love. How To Do All Things takes you step by step to experiencing your true Self. No rituals. No complicated teachings. Simple, clear knowledge leads directly to the Source. Mastership is for everyone.

How To Do All Things' simple, practical approach will serve you in all your activities. It has been used successfully by those of all religious and spiritual backgrounds, opening the door for many in understanding their faith. Countless readers have testified to its impact on their lives.

"If you do not already own a copy of this book, I strongly suggest that you obtain one immediately. You will probably always wish to keep the book at hand as a ready reference for spiritual and material decisions."—Vance Ferguson, Personal Fulfillment Trainer.

"Here is a milestone text explaining methods whereby one can achieve more spiritual understanding and greater use of divine power. This work of love . . . is a divine instructional guide that starts with the basic truth, 'Man is not just a physical body with a brain but is a spirit with mind and body.' This is the first of many, many truths offered by Mark Age. The purpose is to help lead the reader to a joyful and abundant life, steeped in spirituality. It succeeds!"—Richard Fuller, Senior Editor, Metaphysical Reviews.

Softcover, 144 pages. U.S. price $8. Mark-Age.
Spanish rights sold; all other rights available.

Fiction

• Damp Whisper Gabrielle F. Culmer

A suspenseful novel about love and courage while faced with life's challenges.

Damp Whisper is a descriptive and romantic novel about Amelia, a successful real estate agent in London, in the middle of planning her wedding in the tropics.

An unfortunate event occurs while probating her mother's estate, and she and her family are forced to guard the family heirlooms on the continent.

Luckily, Amelia has the moral support of her fiancé, Lars, an international lawyer, as well as her watchful family who live in the U. K. and Bermuda.

Gabrielle F. Culmer is the author of the novels, Arrive by Dusk published by Archway Publishing and A Matter of Keeping, as well as the poetry collections Blue Streams to Paradise (2006) and Glenely Bay and Nostalgia from Paris (2014). She is a lawyer with university degrees from New York, Chicago and the United Kingdom.

Softcover, 242 pages. U.S. price $12.95; eBook $3.99. Gabrielle F. Culmer. All rights available.

Fiction

• Arrive by Dusk Gabrielle F. Culmer

Mindy Croixe is a widow at thirty-four and a highly respected artist whose landscape and aquatic scenes depict imagery from New York to Paris, where she has lived with her late husband Lamont, an aristocrat from Europe. She is participating in a new art show in St. Tropez when she comes across her friend Blaine who is also on business in the area. He is opening a luxury hotel overlooking the sea, the latest of his international resorts and yet still yearns for stability in his personal life. It is a story about ambition and emotions as their journey continues across two continents.

Gabrielle F. Culmer has previously published two novels, A Matter of Keeping (2009), and Damp Whisper (2012), and one collection of poetry, Blue Streams to Paradise (2006). She is a lawyer based in New York and has earned several university degrees from universities in England, New York and Chicago. She has spent time in France to research subject matter when writing the novel.

Hard and softcover, 241 pages. U.S. price $34.99; $17.99. Archway Publishing. All rights available.

Fiction

• Early Pleasures: Memoirs of a Sensual Youth Frederick Kohner

"This sweet little piece of perfection," as a reader of Early Pleasures in manuscript called it, was only recently discovered among Frederick Kohner's papers.

A fictionalization of the author's adolescent sexual adventures in Austria and Paris in the years following World War I, they are for the most part adventures in sexual frustration. Through the four women he encounters—his brother's nanny; a young countess and the sister of a proto-Nazi; a domestic with an emotional disorder; and a White Russian émigré—the narrator experiences not only desire but also the tragedy of life and the humor inherent in life’s ironies. A book to be savored.

Readers may not be familiar with the author’s name, but more likely they will have heard of his daughter Kathy, also known as ‘Gidget,’ the little Malibu surfer who became an American icon when her father wrote the novel Gidget that inspired three movies and a popular TV series.

Hardcover, 178 pages. U.S. price $23.95. Black Heron Press. All rights available.

Fiction

• Stillbird

Sandra Shwayder Sanchez

Beginning with the strangling of a perceived witch in 1880s Scotland, Stillbird spans five generations and traces a story as ancient as the Greek Tragedies and as modern as the daily news. Stillbird by the River, widowed by the young Scotsman she marries, is raped by his brother. Her granddaughter, Mary Queen of Scots, is first rescued from drowning by a traveling preacher then sold to a traveling carnival when she gives birth to an armless child of incest. Elements of magical realism and archetypal characters give this brief novel a mystical and mythic quality.

“What a pleasure to read this inventive, intelligent new novel by Sandra Shwayder Sanchez. Stillbird has the resonance of an epic tale and the immediacy of a gripping story-line. Sanchez reveals an acute sense of place and season as well as a rich appreciation for history. Through nuanced characterization and dramatic suspense, Sanchez draws us into a complex and fascinating world. Stillbird shows us that Sandra Shwayder Sanchez is a writer to watch for.”—Valerie Miner, author of Abundant Light and The Low Road.

“Stillbird is a strangely powerful novel whose haunting, almost surreal images; lyrical, dreamlike prose; and complexity will challenge the most sophisticated reader. Sanchez’ writing style is exquisite. Her flawless prose flows, sometimes beautiful, sometimes disturbing but always memorable. Stillbird is a novel I highly recommend for the serious reader.”—Mayra Calvani, The Bloomsbury Review.

Soft cover, 124 pages. U.S. price $9.50. The Wessex Collective. All rights available.

Fiction / Action Adventure with a Science Fiction Twist

• Strike at the Heart—The First Mission Lawrence W. Berrie

Winner, Best Genre-Based Book, London Book Festival.

“Strike at the Heart—I found the premise intriguing and the writing crisp. This is an old-fashioned page-turner that sucks you in.”—London Book Festival JUDGE ONE.

“Strike at the Heart—I definitely feel like I want to see the movie. The author has obviously traveled a bit and has a good eye for scene-setting and plot development. It’s not easy to do an involved plot like this, but the author carries it out with aplomb. Enjoyed it very much and would, at the least, give it hard consideration for the category winner.”—London Book Festival JUDGE TWO.

Best Science Fiction Novel—New York Book Festival.

“Strike at the Heart is a page-turner. An intriguing concept and deftly maneuvered.”—NYBF judge.

“Film worthy, and definitely worth checking out. A page-turning read.” “I enjoyed this from start to finish. What a vivid imagination.”—Judges’ comments from the Hollywood Book Fair (Honorable Mention in General Fiction category).

Winner of 1st and 2nd Place recognition in the Genre-Based category at the DIY Convention Book Fair.

Captain John Harris, special forces A team leader, finds himself in a strange and unknown world when his convoy encounters a time gate in the middle of East Africa. He struggles to keep everyone together in spite of the attempts of Colonel David Walsh, MD, to assume command.

Just before leaving for Africa, Harris’ fiancée breaks up with him. His second in command and blood brother is her cousin. Harris is determined to get back to rectify the relationship. But he needs boats to reach the extraction point in time and he does not have any.

Nomi is an African princess who lives in the year 4000 BC. She dreams of a big, strong warrior rescuing her from their hated enemy, the Masai. But when her father has dreams about her and the tribal shaman says that she must marry the warrior from the North who defeated the Masai and leave her tribe or else her people will die, she learns how hard it can be living dreams.

For a video look at this series, go to www.strikeattheheart.com.

A graduate of California State University of Los Angeles, L.W. Berrie worked in the aerospace industry for twenty-three years before entering the Legal Assistance Program at UC-Irvine. The University provided the research materials for this book.

Hard and soft cover, 235 pages. U.S. price $22.99/$15.99. Xlibris/Lawrence W. Berrie. All rights available.

Fiction / Action Adventure with a Science Fiction Twist

• Strike at the Heart—The Rescue Mission Lawrence W. Berrie

Honorable Mention, Best Genre-Based Book, London Book Festival.

A sequel to The First Mission—there's a waiting list in Iraq among US Army Rangers to read these novels.

Colonel John Harris, U.S. Army Special Forces, goes back in time to retrieve his lost men. But something is blocking their way from leaving.

Some blame the ghost of Harris' adversary, Mhaglami, and some blame the land gone wild. Harris is afraid that this time they may bring back more than they bargained for.

Usa, both Teri and Masai, longs for a world where her mixed heritage does not matter. Although promised to N'Grundbligimi since childhood, their marriage is opposed by powerful forces from both within and outside the tribe. She wants to pursue her dreams. But will she find such a place?

"Writing is sharp, [an] interesting story...definitely good at describing military activities...Definitely a contender for a prize."—New York Book Festival judge.

Winner of 1st and 2nd Place recognition in the Genre-Based category at the DIY Convention Book Fair.

A graduate of California State University of Los Angeles, L.W. Berrie worked in the aerospace industry for twenty-three years before entering the Legal Assistance Program at UC-Irvine.

Hard and soft cover, 222 pages. U.S. price $22.99/$15.99. Xlibris/Lawrence W. Berrie. All rights available.

Fiction / Business Fiction

• The Boss Andrew O'Keeffe

The Boss is a novel based on true stories about bosses. Written by an ex-IBM business executive, the book is an insider's exposé of the world of work and the impact leaders have on people's spirits.

The Boss tells the story of Lauren Johnson, a talented but naive professional struggling under an insensitive boss who undermines her at every turn. Forced into a final decision, Lauren must fight back or have her spirit crushed.

The first print run of 5,000 in Australia sold out. The book was published in America in May 2009.

The book is aimed at two markets:

1. The consumer market where people associate strongly with the true events and the challenges of working for a boss who saps people's energy;

2. The corporate market where organizations buy copies for their managers to use in leadership training and coaching. At the back of the book are discussion questions to assist leadership education and on our website is a facilitator's guide with suggested answers. Organizations that have purchased bulk copies for their managers or staff include Coca Cola, GE, Ericsson, Pfizer, Symantec and Thales.

"The Boss is a rare novel that exposes the truth about what work can do to the human soul."—Craig Donaldson, HR Magazine.

Finalist in the Best New Fiction category of USA Book News 'National Best Books' 2009 Awards

Hard cover, 264 pages; U.S. price $24.95.

Andrew O'Keeffe. Korean foreign rights sold; all other rights available.

Fiction / Historical

• For Love's Sake Only Trilogy Gayle Rogers

The For Love's Sake Only trilogy finds all of the main characters of Nakoa's Woman returned, this time to Elizabethan England.

The book is a tribute to the strength and genius of Elizabeth Tudor, including her stand against the tyranny of the church embodied by Philip II, king of Spain.

The Queen's life forms the basis of the trilogy, including her devotion and love for a man hardly deserving.

Elizabeth faced constant attempts on her life instigated by the Pope and Philip.

Philip wanted Elizabeth's throne for Catholic Mary Stuart who had foolishly lost her own. Elizabeth, after all, defended Protestants, ensuring the success of The Reformation—a momentous event in our life even today.

Nakoa/Nakole is a poor but educated man adopted into the Drake clan. When he meets Mylayna, a highborn lady serving Elizabeth at court, it is instant attraction. The class barrier between them seems insurmountable, however. Nitanna/Netalia (from Nakoa) is there as well to make murder necessary again.

In any structured society, one thing talks—wealth. To win Mylayna as his wife, Nakole sets out to pirate the Spanish with his foster brother, the incredible Francis Drake.

This trilogy has it all—the pirating, the perilous voyage around the world, the pre-Armada attacks and the action climaxing in the Armada invasion.

This is an age of belief in black magic and it is here as well. But evil cannot transcend love...when we return to earth again...for love's sake only.

For Love's Sake Only, Volume 1: Crownwood. Soft cover, 337 pages, U.S. price $18. Sojourner Publishers Inc. All rights available. For Love's Sake Only, Volume 2: The Golden Hind. Soft cover, 336 pages, U.S. price $18. Sojourner Publishers Inc. All rights available. For Love's Sake Only, Volume 3: Cothelstone. Soft cover, 471 pages. U.S. price $18. Sojourner Publishers Inc. All rights available.

Fiction / Historical

• Gladyce with a C Gayle Rogers

A semi-autobiographical novel combining the account of the author's family and her own life with the lovers of Nakoa's Woman who meet and fall in love again during the Second World War.

Author Gayle Rogers draws on her own near-death experience in order to create the psychic, supernatural and deeply spiritual mysticism left the door from the soul open to them.

The Gladyce on the cover is the author's mother at the same age as that of Gladyce as the novel begins.

Learn, share, laugh, cry and know the triumph in the acceptance of the self in the glory of its totality.

Hardcover, 308 pages. U.S. price $25.95.
Sojourner Publishers Inc. All rights available.

Fiction / Historical

• My Name Was Mary Gayle Rogers

Abraham Lincoln fell deeply in love with Mary Todd. As he was quoted as saying many times—he never fell out.

She was of a wealthy family and was scorned by all of her wealthy sisters for marrying a poor man, deeply in debt with none of the prospects of the wealthy suitors who courted her. Separated far too long by Lincoln's fear of giving her a life of hardship she could not bear, in the end their love would not allow them to remain apart.

Lincoln bore the vicious attacks on his wife with great pain. Hated in the South for being the wife of Abraham Lincoln, hated in the North for being a Southerner, she is one of the most maligned persons in American history. Lincoln's exalted status made the vicious attacks on him irrelevant. Without her husband's status, Mary became temporarily crushed under more grief than she could bear.

Without her story, you do not know Abraham Lincoln for the man he was: tender lover, husband and father, a human man who forgot to bank the coals for the morning fire, forgot to come home at the proper time for meals, who usually read with his feet on a table or lying on the floor with his feet up on a chair, a man who spoiled their four sons by denying them nothing, and always, always cherished the woman who stole his heart away. 'Love is eternal,' he had written in her wedding ring, and for them it is.

Let her speak for herself. Honestly. It is about time.

"...a moving account...."—Anne Thompson, 'On The Book Shelf.'

Hard cover, 387 pages. U.S. price $25.95.
Sojourner Publishers Inc.. All rights available.

Fiction / Historical

• Nakoa's Woman Gayle Rogers

Gayle Rogers has skillfully created a novel that is both a stirring exploration of the world of the Native American and an epic love story. Over time, it has become a true cult classic.

It is the tale of a beautiful white girl, Maria, captured by the Blackfoot warrior Nakoa, and of their stormy relationship as she struggles against her growing love for her captor, and he struggles against the customs of his people to keep her.

Filled with Native American wisdom, mysticism and accurate anthropology.

Originally published in 1972 as The Second Kiss, this book sold nearly a million copies as a Dell paperback.

"A fascinating portrayal of physical & spiritual love."—

Library Journal.

"Spellbinding... Bittersweet... At once violent, mystical and wise!"—Publishers Weekly.

"Original and moving...enthralls the reader."—Columbus Dispatch.

The author taught history and literature for twenty eight years and says that when she wrote this book she actually saw it happening.

Soft cover, 343 pages. U.S. price $11.95
Sojourner Publishers Inc. All rights available.

Fiction / Historical, Espionage

- The Shenandoah Spy, Being The True Life Adventure of Belle Boyd, CSA, The “Confederate Cleopatra”
Francis Hamit

Perfect for Fiction Lists that Include Romantic Action Novels for Women

The story of a teenaged society girl who became a scout and spy for the Confederate Army, and who spied from the midst of a Union Army headquarters and delivered intelligence that made possible Stonewall Jackson’s Valley Campaign.

Belle Boyd was a classic Southern Belle who could also ride and shoot as well as a man. She seduced a Union Army staff officer. She also ran across the battlefield under fire to deliver intelligence to Jackson. She later became the first woman in American history commissioned an army officer.

Based on real people and events; not suitable for young children; scenes of sexuality and extreme violence.

“Real facts and fictional imagination are woven throughout the story.... The writing is truly gifted and Hamit is inventive with his use of real and fictional dialogs and narratives of people and events...”

“He...captures the female energy of Belle Boyd so that she has power, intelligence, sex appeal and cunning. He also gives us a good supporting cast of characters. For those who...a good adventure story this is a book worth reading. I give it five stars.”—W.H. McDonald, Jr., President, Military Writers Society of America.

“The Shenandoah Spy commands your attention immediately and does not deviate from intensity until you finish Belle Boyd’s episodes. Francis Hamit’s captivating style takes you on a journey of fantasy... embedded with historical realism [that] makes The Shenandoah Spy an exciting read. Francis Hamit has been a writer for over 40 years and is a true word-smith...Highly Recommended”—Clark Issacs.

Soft cover, 448 pages, including end matter and map. U.S. price $22.50; e-book $9.99. Brass Cannon Media. All rights available.

Fiction / Historical, Espionage

- The Queen of Washington
Francis Hamit

Romance, Civil War, Sex, Espionage...

A meticulously researched novel focused on the Famous Confederate spy Rose Geenhow who “entertained” the Union General Staff and government cabinet ministers lavishly in Washington during the U.S. Civil War, obtaining information she arranged to reach the Confederacy in Richmond.

Was she part of a wide-ranging plot to split the United States into two nations that began before the Mexican War?

Were she and her husband, Robert, a high-level U.S. State Department official, conduit of information for the French and British Ministers in Washington?

Hardcover, 328 pages. U.S. price $32. Brass Cannon Media. Worldwide English language audio book rights sold; all other rights available.

Fiction / Historical, ‘New Journalism’ American and Family History

- Shadows to the Sun
Gayle Rogers

For generations, the Covington family stood at the center of American history.

A Covington was with Washington at Valley Forge while another rose to the rank of general in the Continental Army. The Covingtons were firm friends with Andrew Jackson and the families intermarried. Shadows to the Sun focuses on the Reverend Daniel Asbury Covington, a Mississippi abolitionist as besotted with Lincoln’s career as he was with ending slavery, and his own family. Covering the years 1854 to 1866, the novel is a fictional but accurate treatment of a group of people living in the ante bellum South.

There can be few better settings for a novel of romance and conflict than an abolitionist family in the ante bellum South. Novelist Gayle Rogers extracts every ounce of both romance and excitement from the actual lives of family members as they love and fight their way through the four long years of America’s most bloody war.

eBook, 653 pages. Gayle Rogers. All rights available.

Fiction / Historical, Vietnam

• Flesh

Khanh Ha

Set in Annam at the turn of the 20th century, Flesh tells the story of a boy who witnesses the execution, by beheading, of his father, a notorious bandit, and sets out to recover his father's head and then find the man who betrayed his father to the authorities.

A coming-of-age story as well as a tender love story, Flesh takes the reader into places where enemies may be your allies and true love hurts.

“In this dark, violent, and poetic saga...characters are not who they seem. While this makes for a thrilling finale, what lingers more...is Ha's descriptive prose.”—Publishers Weekly.

“Readers who enjoy epic sagas set in faraway lands will find absorbing satisfaction here.”—Library Journal.

Hardcover, 368 pages. U.S. price $25.95. Black Heron Press. All rights available.

Fiction / Literary

• Three Novellas

Sandra Shwayder Sanchez

This collection of novellas is about journeys.

In The Last Long Walk of Noah Brown, a young man leaves his hometown of Annapolis in 1965. A complete innocent, he trusts the people he encounters along the roads who give him direction until he settles in New Orleans where he eventually rescues people and animals caught in the 2005 flood.

The King and the Clockmaker examines questions about the genesis of evil, the role of art and the nature of time.

In The Vast Darkness, a young woman student of anthropology reflects upon the influence of isolated mountain living upon her neighbors.

“Sandra Shwayder Sanchez continues to prove herself as a powerful voice in the serious, literary scene. Her latest book, a collection of three novellas, is a darkly compelling work filled with complex characters, vibrant images, and sparkingly insightful prose.”—Midwest Book Review.

“Sanchez' writing style is exquisite, Her flawless prose flows—sometimes beautiful, sometimes disturbing—but always memorable.”—Mayra Calvani, The Bloomsbury Review.

Soft cover, 152 pages. U.S. price $15. The Wessex Collective. All rights available.

Fiction / Mysteries

• Dead at the Box Office

an Edie Koslow-Tony Del Plato mystery
John Dandola

Since Thomas Alva Edison had been its most famous resident, the small town of West Orange, New Jersey, successfully campaigned to host the World Premiere of the 1940 film biography, Edison, the Man. M.G.M. movie studios happily exploited the idea until aspiring local actresses began turning up dead. What had seemed to be a surefire promotional coup suddenly could become a complete and utter nightmare unless the studio's publicity girl, with the help of the town's local trouble-shooter, can discover the motive for the murders..

Soft cover, 182 pages. U.S. price, $15.95. Compass Point Mysteries/Quincannon Publishing Group. Italian rights have reverted to the publisher; all rights available.

Fiction / Mysteries

• Dead in Their Sights

an Edie Koslow-Tony Del Plato mystery
John Dandola

In 1942, M.G.M. publicity girl, Edie Koslow, is transferred from the Hollywood studio to the Manhattan offices. As a favor to Broadway producer George Abbott, she is asked to help with some publicity for an ingénue in his new play. That actress coincidentally hails from West Orange, New Jersey, and the assignment brings Edie back to familiar territory and renews her friendship with local trouble-shooter, Tony Del Plato. But what should be a pleasant reunion is interrupted by Nazi saboteurs plotting to destroy the Thomas Edison factories.

Soft cover, 222 pages. U.S. price, $15.95. Compass Point Mysteries/Quincannon Publishing Group. All rights available.

Fiction / Mysteries

• Dead by All Appearances

an Edie Koslow-Tony Del Plato mystery
John Dandola

As autumn arrives in 1942, the youngest Edison son asks local trouble-shooter, Tony Del Plato, and publicity girl, Edie Koslow, to visit the New England seaside estate of a millionaire inventor who is hosting a coast-to-coast Halloween radio broadcast which will star actress, Marjorie Reynolds, fresh from her hit movie, Holiday Inn. But the innocent frivolity of the event is almost eclipsed by murder and the discovery of Nazi spies trying to steal the inventor's top-secret weapons designs.

Soft cover, 200 pages. U.S. price $15.95. Compass Point Mysteries/Quincannon Publishing Group. All rights available.

Fiction / Mysteries

• Dead in Small Doses a Tony Del Plato Mystery John Dandola

With a romantic chemistry established between Tony Del Plato and actress Marjorie Reynolds, she takes over the co-sleuthing chores as her studio plans a Popular Science movie short featuring the millionaire inventor from Dead by All Appearances. The location shooting takes them from New England to the Caribbean on a treasure hunt which winds up involving them in smuggling and murder. Interwoven with the main plot are three stories related by Tony to Marjorie about his mysterious background.

Soft cover. U.S. price $15.95. Compass Point Mysteries/Quincannon Publishing Group. All rights available.

Fiction / Mystery

• Dead by Happenstance a Tony Del Plato mystery John Dandola

In the spring of 1943, Tony Del Plato winds up in the Mayan ruins of Chichen Itza when he is hired to supply security for a B movie. Of course, nothing goes quite as planned when dealing with a wayward stunt woman not to mention archaeological looting and murder. Marjorie Reynolds also manages a vacation to tag along adding both acting and detecting assistance as her romance with Tony blossoms.

Soft cover, 326 pages. U.S. price $15.95. Compass Point Mysteries/Quincannon Publishing Group. . All rights available.

Fiction / Mysteries

• Dead in Left Field the sixth Tony Del Plato mystery John Dandola

Although World War II is raging across most of the globe, the only conflicts arising in West Orange, New Jersey, during the summer of 1943 are those between Little League baseball teams. All of that changes after spiteful political machinations cause

Tony Del Plato to be harassed by a new member of the police department and the harassing officer is ground dead on the local baseball field.

The case quickly takes on labyrinthine twists that include prostitutes, potential turf wars, convoluted vendettas, New Jersey gangster "Long" Zwillman, and several members of "Lucky" Luciano's crime family.

Meanwhile in Hollywood, actress Marjorie Reynolds plans to turn producer and she enlists fellow actress Jeff Donnell to play Tony's surrogate daughter, Patty Drury, in a potential movie providing, of course, that Tony approves of the project and the casting choice.

Publication Date: 2016.

Pre-publication copy available from Compass Point Mysteries/Quincannon Publishing. All rights available.

Fiction / Mysteries

• Dead in the Shadows the seventh Tony Del Plato mystery John Dandola

As Labor Day of 1943 draws near, actress Marjorie Reynolds finally gets the chance to become a film producer when her idea for a B-movie mystery gets the green-light by Paramount Pictures.

With cinematographer Steve Hardin also taking the helm as director and actress Jeff Donnell signed as the lead, all that is necessary is Tony Del Plato's participation not only as Marjorie's co-producer but as her companion all alone and by themselves while scouting film locations in a small California town.

With Tony's usual magnetism for trouble, what could possibly go wrong?

Publication Date: 2016.

Publication date: 2016. Compass Point Mysteries/Quincannon Publishing. All rights available.

Fiction / Mysteries

• Dead on Their Trail the eighth Tony Del Plato mystery John Dandola

When production begins on the second Patty Drury movie, Tony Del Plato arranges for the real Patty to travel to California so that she can meet both her screen counterpart, actress Jeff Donnell, and actress Marjorie Reynolds who is the producer of the series.

Although the script's storyline is set in the Wild West of the 1880's, mysterious occurrences during shooting at the movie ranch location bring attention back to the present and the effect that World War II is having on the home front.

Publication Date: 2016.

Pre-publication copy available from Compass Point Mysteries/Quincannon Publishing.

All rights available.

Fiction / Mysteries

• Dead in the Embers

the ninth Tony Del Plato mystery

John Dandola

After a landmark stone church is gutted by fire, Tony Del Plato is asked to investigate but the case is almost immediately complicated by squabbling town politicians, a screwy local historian, prying reporters, New Jersey mobsters, and Tony's three favorite females: Patty Drury, Marjorie Reynolds, Jeff Donnell.

Publication Date: 2016.

Pre-publication copy available from Compass Point Mysteries/Quincannon Publishing.

All rights available.

Fiction / Mysteries

• Wind of Time

the first Jeffrey Devereaux-Kirsten Eriksson

novel

John Dandola

Kirsten Eriksson possessed The Sight. Her dreams could relive the past or foresee the future.

For centuries, the origin of a mysterious stone tower in Newport, Rhode Island, has been debated, derided, and dismissed but upon Kirsten's visit, she relives the tower's construction by a twelfth-century Icelandic bishop and that also reveals her own familial ties to it.

Soft cover, 190 pages. U.S. price, $14.95.

Compass Point Mysteries/Quincannon Publishing Group. Polish rights have reverted to the publisher; all rights available.

Fiction / Mysteries

• Wicked Is the Wind

the second Jeffrey Devereaux-Kirsten Eriksson

novel

John Dandola

Epiphany, Massachusetts, had a rich history dating back two hundred years. Unfortunately, that hasn't prevented present-day Epiphany from becoming the embodiment of municipal turmoil. Its neglected historic buildings are crumbling; its real estate values are plummeting; its merchants are relocating; and its corrupt politicians are squabbling over who's to blame.

Making matters worse, new construction has been halted in a drained tidal marsh when seemingly ancient artifacts are uncovered there. After one of Kirsten Eriksson's friends becomes involved, amateur historian Jeffrey Devereaux is asked to make an inspection of the site. But the political climate and an ensuing murder nearly obliterate Jeffrey's conclusion that the artifacts may actually pre-date Epiphany's founding by centuries.

Soft cover, 222 pages. U.S. price, $14.95.

Compass Point Mysteries/Quincannon Publishing Group. All rights available.

Fiction / Mysteries

• The Unbound Wind

the third Jeffrey Devereaux-Kirsten Eriksson

novel

John Dandola

When a member of the Board of Directors turns up dead on the grounds of Hammond Castle Museum after a Renaissance Faire and another death occurs during a toy show in the castle's Great Hall, Jeffrey and Kirsten can't help but wonder if the misfortunes are somehow connected with a medieval artifact they have been studying.

Soft cover, 200 pages. U.S. price $14.95.

Compass Point Mysteries/Quincannon Publishing Group. All rights available.

Fiction / Mysteries

• A Beckoning Wind

the fourth Jeffrey Devereaux-Kirsten Eriksson

novel

John Dandola

What should be a peaceful week of sunshine and relaxation on the Gulf Coast of Florida turns out to be anything but when Jeffrey and Kirsten become involved with solving a murder which is somehow connected to newly-discovered artifacts dating from contact between the local Indians and Spaniards during the sixteenth century.

Also included is an additional bonus: a never-before-published short story, Whispers Upon the Wind, in which Jeffrey and Kirsten are asked to investigate the mysterious origin of a medieval fresco hidden within Hammond Castle Museum in Gloucester, Massachusetts.

Soft cover. Quincannon Publishing Group. All rights available.

Fiction / Mysteries

Roy Lewis / The Arnold Langdon Mysteries

The Arnold Landon mysteries have entertained readers for more than thirty years. British mystery novelist Roy Lewis has authored a series of twenty-one (and counting) such novels set in scenic Northumberland and featuring an amateur historian and archaeological digs galore. American mystery novelist and screenwriter John Dandola has even been at work adapting them for possible television production.

Hardcover and paperback publishing rights are once again available to the first fourteen Landon novels; others will follow as the rights to each novel revert back to the author. The first fourteen titles are:

A Gathering of Ghosts / “Arnold Landon [is] an unforgettable character. A Gathering of Ghosts is an unusual book, one with a pronounced streak of poetry.”—The New York Times Book Review

Most Cunning Workmen / “Gives readers a wizard puzzle to solve as well as the joy of vicariously exploring irreplaceable British treasures. The author’s cool posture, sly humor and unpredictable plot make his new mystery a delight for discriminating fans.”—Publishers Weekly

A Trout in the Milk / “A splendid combination of atmosphere, history and plotting.”—Booklist

Men of Subtle Craft / “Lewis unobtrusively weaves ancient history into actions and motivations of the present day, with quietly spell-binding results. His storytelling is subtle craft indeed.”—San Francisco Chronicle

The Devil is Dead / “This intelligent, nicely textured mystery gathers speed and races to a thrilling conclusion.”—Publishers Weekly

A Wisp of Smoke / “An understated marvel of breathless economy.”—Booklist

A Secret Dying / “A new detective yarn from England can be irresistible.... Roy Lewis’ A Secret Dying is the classic prototype.”—St. Louis Post-Dispatch

The Cross Bearer / “Marvelously imagined, with high romance throbbing behind the measured prose.”—Literary Review

Bloodeagle / “A neat and pacy read.”—Oxford Mail

A Short-Lived Ghost / “Power struggles in the world of archaeology with a touch of murder thrown in....”—Ham & High

Angel of Death / “Engaging, exciting and a sight more interesting than who’s coming through the door with a .45 in their hand...Unique and cherishable; one of Lewis’s best.”—Literary Review

Suddenly as a Shadow / “Eminently readable.”—Birmingham Post

The Shape-Shifter / “Exciting and individual. Lewis is a master craftsman and this is one of his best.”—Literary Review

The Ghost Dancers / “Lewis does his stuff brilliantly...A magisterial, satisfying read.”—Literary Review

Roy Lewis has been writing mysteries for the past forty years. He is the father of three lawyers and a former college administrator who now manages his own business interests in Southeast Asia. He divides his time between northern England (where most of his books are set), France, and Spain.

In all, Lewis has written more than fifty novels.

Hardcover and paperback publishing rights are also available for all of his stand-alone mystery titles as well as most of the titles in his two other mystery series: one, featuring English lawyer Eric Ward and the other, English policeman John Crow.

Please contact International Titles about rights and any other matters of interest regarding Roy Lewis.

Fiction / Mysteries

• Menace

Gayle Rogers

A lunatic has escaped from an asylum, a man who had never been allowed to attend the public school of a mountain village in the Washington Cascades. The teacher of the school has disappeared—just vanished without a trace. Two retired university professors have been killed at their doorstep by an ax murderer—and their daughter Mary has been hired to replace the missing teacher.

The town minister has psychic visions that she will be killed as well. To save her the school must remain closed. Although she will never admit it, Mary has nightmares that tell her the same thing. She is as determined to teach as the minister is determined that she not do it.

Mary believes in magic. She has her relationship with God and the eternal all worked out. There is a window beyond the human mind into the soul and all of its many mansions that make time timeless and a path to it sacred. Many mansions await the seeker and the sought. The sleeping princess awaits the kiss of the prince and a new awakening for them both.

There are many paths to the sacred. One of them Mary sees is opening the school and she is determined to do it. But the school is haunted. The school is menaced.

Believe in magic, Mary still wants to be a teacher and share in the joy of the awakening of a mind in every student. For her, such openings are a path beyond limits. She wants to show students the meadow beyond the windowsill where belief in magic becomes real.

A romantic, she dreams of one true love—and meets him. Oh, she also meets the ax murderer.

Soft cover, 175 pages. U.S. price $14.95. Originally published as Mary's Little Lamb. Sojourner Publishers, Inc. All rights available.

Fiction / Mysteries, Christian Gnostics

• Three Blind Mice Gayle Rogers

Who are this novel's characters?

Nothing in this book and nothing in life is as it seems.

The novel's cover depicts two women kissing one man.

Perhaps, they are the three blind mice.

Perhaps, the two women and one man are in the Garden of Eden before one woman decides that they must leave.

The title is so ordinary because the situation that befalls the man is not uncommon—can you deeply love one woman and still feel lust for another woman?

This is a murder mystery (three murders, actually)—but who is the murderer?

The book is a love story, one that is tied to the Gnostic teachings of Jesus, the sacredness of human love (as seen in Gnosticism) and the human need to self-destruct.

Soft cover, 310 pages. Sojourner Publishers Inc. U.S. price $18.99. All rights available.

Fiction / Mysteries, Radio Plays

• A Father Brown Triptych, a trio of radio plays featuring G.K. Chesterton's ecclesiastical detective Adapted by John Dandola

Each January, an offering of plays and discussions entitled Saints & Sleuths is sponsored by the G.K. Chesterton Institute on the campus of Seton Hall University. A key element of these programs has been John Dandola's adaptations of the venerable Father Brown mysteries into old-fashioned radio drama performed live onstage with sound effects. Due to worldwide interest expressed by Chesterton devotees, they are published here for the first time in book form.

The Intercessions of Father Brown introduces us to the main cast of Chesterton characters by imaginatively combining The Blue Cross, The Queer Feet, and The Flying Stars.

The Fallen Idols of Father Brown draws somber dramatic parallels between The Secret Garden and The Sign of the Broken Blade.

The Hoodwinking of Father Brown seamlessly blends the deductions taught in The Eye of Apollo, The Three Tools of Death, and The Honour of Israel Gow.

John Dandola is a mystery novelist, screenwriter, and playwright. He is a member of the Mystery Writers of America, the Writers Guild of America, and the Dramatists Guild of America.

Soft cover, 180 pages. Quincannon Publishing Group. All rights available.

Fiction / Mysteries, Stage Script

• The Man Who Was Thursday Adapted by John Dandola

First published in 1908, The Man Who Was Thursday by G.K. Chesterton has remained a mainstay of literature. Almost incapable of being categorized—is it a mystery, a fantasy, an allegory, all of the above or even more?—the story blends the fantastic and the bizarre into a tale about mad anarchists rampaging their way across Britain and Europe.

In celebration of the novella's one-hundredth anniversary, it was adapted not only as a full-length stage play in three acts but also as a radio play by John Dandola. The undertaking was co-sponsored by the G.K. Chesterton Institute and produced by the Celtic Theatre Company in the Theatre-in-the-Round on the campus of Seton Hall University. Due to worldwide interest expressed by Chesterton devotees, both dramatic versions are published here for the first time in book form.

John Dandola is a mystery novelist, screenwriter, and playwright. He is a member of the Mystery Writers of America, the Writers Guild of America, and the Dramatists Guild of America.

Soft cover, 130 pages. Quincannon Publishing Group. All rights available.

Fiction / Paranormal, Historical

• Amelia 1868

Janet Kay

She begins to sob uncontrollably upon discovering an overgrown tombstone in the mountains overlooking the old western ghost town of Virginia City, Montana. It is inscribed simply ‘Amelia 1868.’ Obsessed with discovering the identity of this woman, Rose finds herself shuttling back and forth in time between her world and that of an 1860s dance hall girl. Trapped between the past and the present, Rose struggles to find a way to move into the future.

“Janet Kay is a gifted storyteller who entralls her readers with her brilliant imagination and alluring plot. You won’t be able to put Amelia 1868 down!”—Stacie Theis, Beachbound Books.

“Highly recommended.”—Midwest Book Review.

Softcover, 272 pages. U.S. price $15.95; eBook $5.95. Janet Kay. All rights available.

Fiction / Paranormal, Romance, Inspirational

• Waters of the Dancing Sky

Janet Kay

An inspirational love story/wilderness adventure set on the islands of Rainy Lake along the United States/Canadian international border, a soul journey that unfolds like a Hallmark movie.

Reviews have been excellent:

“An elegantly told story filled with twists and turns, pain and tenderness, conflict and resolution. A story about the universality of life. Highly recommended reading for lovers of life everywhere.”—Don Bacue, International Features Syndicate.

“A brilliant tale, beautifully written, of second chances and building a better, stronger life.”—Melissa Levine, Independent Professional Book Reviewers.

Author Janet Kay lives and writes on a lake in northwest Wisconsin. This is her debut novel and she’s planning a sequel based on numerous requests from her fans.

Softcover, 272 pages. U.S. price $15.95; eBook $5.95. Janet Kay. All rights available.

Fiction / Romance

• Dark Corners

Gayle Rogers

Where is the ultimate triumph of death? In the dark corners of your mind death reigns supreme—but what if that is nullified by the unquenchable power of love?

John Keats and Frances Brawne will themselves to meet again and to love again.

“He had to tell her one more thing. From the depths of his soul, he had to tell her one more thing.

“Thou art my Heaven, and I thine eremite.

“The night changed. The fog gently withdrew as if by magic, or as if it was made of magic all the time. The dark became clear light as a full moon bathed both land and sea in a soft and silvered radiance. He felt the benevolence of pure enchantment, its center, in a heaven of perfect love and all of its expressions. He saw the lamp, the light within the casements to light, and he thought—those words are not new to me. I have been through these casements before.

“He smashed the glass with his hands and entered the house.”

Haunted by the ghosts of their past lives and threatened by a madman in their present, Keats and Frances wonder if their love can triumph over death a second time?

Soft cover, 256 pages. U.S. price $9.95. Sojourner Publishers, Inc. All rights available.

Fiction / Romance and Adventure

• The Children of Talavera

E. Warner Morrell

ForeWord Magazine Book of the Year Finalist.

The adventures of a shy but determined young woman as she learns her true identity and is transported to the Caribbean island of her birth, where visions revealed in an ancient journal lead her on a perilous journey of further discoveries.

The protagonist’s love for two men of opposing character inspires much of the narrative, but all three major characters are driven by dedication to ideals as much as they are motivated by their passions.

Equally vivid in this fascinating story are the political machinations of men and women trying to forge economic prosperity in the face of desperate poverty, ignorance, and Marxist revolutionary peasants trying to replace the current island government. The choices the leading characters make will influence history for good or evil.

“...a wonderful story, engaging from the very first page to the very last and leaving the reader hoping more stories will flow from the pen of this talented writer.”—Crystal Reviews.

E. Warner Morrell, born and raised in Kansas City, Missouri, has spent most of her life in the American Southwest and now lives in Missouri.

Soft cover, 537 pages. U.S. price $14.50. E. Warner Morrell. All rights available.

Fiction / Short Fiction, Horror & Adventure

• Echoes from the Castle Walls,

The Fiction of John Hays Hammond, Jr.
John Hays Hammond, Jr.

The “Father of Radio Control,” is one of America’s greatest inventors with some 800 international patents on more than 400 inventions to his credit. A well-traveled bon vivant, Hammond built himself a castle; threw lavish parties; hobnobbed with movie stars, royalty, and world leaders; piloted his own yacht; and, at the encouragement of Rudyard Kipling, dabbled in writing fiction. His horror and adventure stories are gathered here for the first time.

Soft cover expanded second edition, 96 pages with black and white illustrations. Tory Corner Editions/Quincannon Publishing. All rights available.

Fiction / Thriller, Alternative History

• Meltdown

Francis Hamit

Alternative history thriller set in the late 1990s about a terrorist attack by domestic militia groups against a nuclear power plant located in the American Midwest defended by a force of contract security officers.

Shortly after Francis Hamit received his MFA degree from the Iowa Writers Workshop, economic circumstances forced him to take a temporary job in private security as a Captain, running 200 security guards at 24 major industrial accounts in the Chicago suburbs. He got the job because of his military experience in the Army Security Agency in Vietnam and Germany.

One of the accounts was a nuclear power plant. The temporary job became a 21-year career as a sales executive, consultant and columnist for Security Technology & Design magazine while he also worked as a freelance writer for many publications and genres. He left the security industry behind in 2003, but recalls the dedication and professionalism of the many colleagues he had there.

“This is a five star book, extremely well written, entertaining, informative, and definitely an adult novel because of its graphic descriptions and some sexual overtones....”—Clark Issacs.

Softcover, 246 pages. U.S. price $21; also available as an eBook. Brass Cannon Media. All rights available.

Gay / Lesbian / Memoir

• Snippets from the Trenches, a mother’s AIDS

memoir

Freda Wagman

A time line of the twelve-year journey of the author’s son living with HIV/AIDS.

Upon learning of his diagnosis early in 1983, she joined the fledgling AIDS Foundation Houston. Throughout the book, she tells of her involvement in helping other people, along with the hope of learning how to deal with her own impending loss. Of course, as the reader finds, one is never prepared for that.

The book chronicles the author’s personal growth while monitoring her only child’s health and that of numerous people with AIDS whom she had grown to love. Even her fellow volunteers were succumbing to the illness, magnifying the sorrow to even greater levels.

“The book you sent me is wonderfully written. I’m not a bit surprised that Foreword Magazine designated it the book of the year,”—Marion Roach Smith, heard daily on ‘The Naturalist’s Datebook,’ Martha Stewart Living Radio, and author of The Memoir Project, A Thoroughly Non-Standardized Text for Writing & Life.

Susan Choi, Pulitzer Prize Finalist, *American Woman: “The really extraordinary thing about this book is that it tells the story of how one mother embarked on her feverish course of involvement in the AIDS community, in large part to help herself come to terms with the possibility of her son’s death. But all that work really doesn’t prepare her. She becomes incredibly intimate with a series of strangers, yet she and her son have more and more trouble talking about HIS illness, which is the reason she is doing all this in the first place. She becomes indispensable at the bedsides of countless other people, but when Gary is dying she feels helpless, disconnected and as if she’d never set foot in an AIDS hospital room. What is moving about this book is the fact that all this preparation doesn’t prepare, because NOTHING can prepare her.

“An unflinching, heartbreaking memoir. A testament to one woman’s bravery and caring in the face of tragedy.”—Follow the Sun.

“A powerful and moving portrait of the limits of humanity and the many faces of AIDS. Written with a profoundly empathetic voice.”—Pressque Editing.

Snippets from the Trenches, a mother’s AIDS memoir is available from Amazon in paperback and Kindle2. A video book trailer may be seen at <http://video.yahoo.com/watch/4968051?fr=yvmtf>.

Soft cover, 258 pages. U.S. price $18. Freda Wagman. Chinese rights sold; all other rights available.

Industrial Security

• Security Matters: Essays on Industrial Security Francis Hamit

Francis Hamit spent more than twenty years in the Security industry as a guard Captain, manager, sales executive and consultant. For seven years (1994-2000) he wrote a monthly column on industry issues, “Security Counterpoint” for Security Technology & Design magazine.

Much of that material written in a style accessible to the general reader, remains relevant today.

This book contains 32 essays that address such issues as:

- Domestic terrorism
- The role of security professionals in our society
- The Interactions between business and law enforcement
- Little known threats to persons and property.

Suitable as a supplemental readings text for academic courses, Security Matters is also a resource for security professionals, and an interesting and enjoyable book for others interested in Security, Law Enforcement, Corporate Culture, and Loss Prevention.

Softcover, 302 pages with end matter and table of contents. U.S. print price $44. Pathway Book Service; Amazon e-book $39. All rights available.

Leadership / Business

• Hardwired Humans, Successful Leadership Using Human Instincts Andrew O’Keeffe

“A compelling book.” —Dr. Jane Goodall.
Offices are not our natural habitat.

Leadership is easier when you understand the nine instincts that still drive human behavior, Based on the author’s wide experience in large organizations combined with witty true stories of chimps from Taronga Zoo and Gombe, Tanzania, Hardwired Humans explains the psychology behind the human instincts of social behavior and how leaders can use an understanding of these instincts to make more effective decisions.

“This excellent, entertaining book introduces the ideas of modern evolutionary psychology and their relevance for life and business. It does so with style and wit. The blend of evidence from research on apes with insights about human behaviour tells the story of what it takes to be human in a most engaging fashion.” —Nigel Nicholson, professor of organisational behaviour, London Business School.

Andrew O’Keeffe has worked in senior roles with IBM, Cable & Wireless Optus, SKM and Hewitt Associates, He is an associate of three of Australia’s leading business schools and author of the celebrated novel The Boss (find above under ‘Fiction’).

Hardcover, 236 pages. Australian price $A39.95. Greenleaf Books. All rights available.

Literary / Horror & Fantasy

• The Ghosts of Hammond Castle John Dandola

Like all proper castles, Hammond Castle Museum in Gloucester, Massachusetts, has had its share of reported hauntings and apparitions. Of the great many people who have had paranormal encounters within its walls, some say that restless ghosts on Cape Ann have been naturally attracted to the structure; others attribute the goings-on directly to Mr. and Mrs. Hammond, who built the castle as their home and whose strong beliefs in such things may continue to act as a lightning rod which beckons spirits; and still others claim that it is because many of the medieval artifacts in the museum collection brought along the souls of their long deceased owners which became attached to beloved possessions in the afterlife. Here is a fascinating collection of stories about ghostly occurrences that have happened at the castle over the years.

Soft cover expanded second edition, 72 pages with black and white illustrations. Quincannon Publishing Group. All rights available.

People / Autobiography

• Never Climbed His Mountain: One Life’s Journey to the Heights and the Abyss. 2nd Edition. Julian Gladstone

Millions, mostly heterosexual males, are attracted to female clothes; wearing them either under “drab” or out and about next to you at a store or restaurant. This facet of my life’s journey of anguish and gender dysphoria—my autobiography—is the core foundation of this story.

Building on this genre are air wars over Europe and, later, memories revisited, fantasyland of Hollywood, Wharton and a bigoted rowing coach, Tokyo riot by the numbers, spiritual musings in a cathedral, at the Hollywood Bowl, on a cliff at Big Sur and elsewhere; golfing to “get ahead,” a birder life’s list, the dog show world, retailing experiences from coast to coast with its political infighting, a cheating president, midnight meeting of armed dissidents during a race riot, friendships with such luminaries as Sam Walton of Wal-Mart and personal bankruptcy—all interwoven in one fabric—one memoir.

I was born of strong-willed parents, both successful even during the Great Depression, navigator/bombardier on World War II bombers, graduated Wharton School, involved in motion pictures in Mexico, Hollywood and New York, developed largest hardware distributor in Canada, and employed at the executive level in every form of conventional and discount retail operations from coast to coast—with all the intrigue, sex and politics mixed in that brew.

Along the way, I became a scratch golfer and bred nationally recognized show dogs (Boxers). I was married to a half-Cree, half-Scotch lady for 52 years before divorcing from a loveless marriage.

After twenty-five years in Washington State, I moved to Florida to join my widowed cousin in order to write this Second Edition. I am now alone for the first time in fifty-seven years due to dementia overtaking her.

Oh yes: from pre-puberty I morphed into a closeted heterosexual cross dresser. Until the advent of the Internet I thought I was some sort of pervert alone in the universe.

Hard and softcover, 534 pages. U.S. price $42.95; $29.95. Julian Gladstone. All rights available.

People / Biography, Memoir

• Solacers

Arion Golmakani

The story of a forgotten, disregarded child but also a story of hope, integrity, and forgiveness.

Alireza seemingly has every reason to give up, to sink into feelings of personal martyrdom or resolve to take vengeance on those who have harmed him.

Instead, he keeps an open heart, able to be touched by the kindness others show him, able to feel love and seek possibility in any circumstance.

And he learns to listen to the dreams of his past and future and set himself on the path that will turn his dreams into reality.

“Golmakani gives voice to children everywhere who long for nurturing and hunger for security. His is a remarkable story of resilience and optimism with lessons for us all.”—Hans J. Massaquoi, whose best-selling book Destined to Witness: Growing Up Black in Nazi Germany was produced in the German mini-series ‘Neger, Neger, Schornsteinfeger.’

“As readers, we admire his persistence and his generous heart.”—Karen Ackland, Forewords Review Magazine, April, 2011.

Arion Golmakani is an American author of Iranian origins. He was born in Tehran and migrated to the United States in the spring of 1974 at the age of 17. Arion was educated at College Conservatory of Music, University of Cincinnati, where he received a degree in fine arts, specializing in radio and television.

Softcover, 289 pages. U.S. price $14.95; eBook $9.99. RedCornPoppy Books. All rights available.

People / Biography, Science

• Living in the Past, Looking to the Future, The Biography of John Hays Hammond, Jr.

John Dandola

The life of John Hays Hammond, Jr., has all the elements of best-selling fiction: he was the scion of a wealthy family; the son of a world-famous father; the protégé of Thomas Alva Edison, Alexander Graham Bell, and Nikola Tesla.

When he demonstrated that he could steer unmanned power boats from shore, newspapers dubbed him ‘The Boy Inventor’ but he went on to be lauded as ‘The Father of Radio Control.’

Along the way, he accumulated some 800 U.S. and foreign patents on more than 400 different inventions; amassed a personal fortune from his innovations for military weaponry and radio; built an actual castle as his home, laboratory, and showplace for his medieval art collection; and played host to the international elite.

This is the biography of a man who obsessively gathered bits and pieces of history around him yet whose scientific work led to a future of robots, target-seeking torpedoes, and guided missiles.

John Dandola is an award-winning author, historian, and screenwriter. His insights into the personalities of great men were fostered by his maternal grandfather who worked as a messenger boy for Thomas Edison during the 1910’s. Both the Edison laboratories and Hammond Castle have been used as backdrops in several of Mr. Dandola’s mystery novels, one of which even features John Hays Hammond, Jr. as a character.

Soft cover, 265 pages. U.S. price $19.95. The Quincannon Publishing Group. All right available.

Religion

• Castle of Dreams, The Divinity Within: How Jesus Christ Survives Christianity Gayle Rogers

When God became man in the form of Jesus Christ, both man and God were changed.

Established churches subsequently tried to change Jesus yet again by declaring him “a conscious path to God.”

The actual Jesus, however, remains free of these doctrinal changes and their often implicit tenets that would kill His spirit and use Him as a basis for fascism.

Man-created religious doctrines have no power over our men-creating God.

As Castle of Dreams shows, we ourselves, like Jesus/God, can be free of these nihilistic religious doctrines.

Soft cover, 245 pages. U.S. price $14.95.
Sojourner Publishers Inc.. All rights available.

Self-Help / Motivational, Spiritual

• Dying Was the Best Thing That Ever Happened to Me, Stories of Healing and Wisdom Along Life’s Journey William E. Hablitzel, M.D.

In this 2007 Independent Publisher Book Awards Medalist, William E. Hablitzel, M.D., a practicing physician and medical educator, shows the magic found in his patients’ lives.

Caring for patients in hospitals, examination rooms, and even in the back of ambulances, he has found lives stripped to their essence, and amidst that essence, great wisdom.

In an overworked and perpetually stressed society, his timely carpe diem message and life lessons will appeal to almost everyone and are touching lives around the world.

Writes Publishers Weekly: “He shares the wisdom, humor, and resoluteness of a Marcus Welby in this engrossing and moving collection.”

“Stories to heal your life...beautifully presented.”—Dr. Wayne W. Dyer.

“This book has all of the wisdom one could seek, told in a heartwarming way that touched me deeply. When a book leads me to tears and joy, as this book has, I know it contains the essence of life. Read it and reap the benefits and wisdom from the experience of others.”—Bernie Siegel, M.D.

“.... more like a healing than a book.”—Larry Dossey, M.D.

Hardcover, 256 pages. U.S. price $24.95. Sunshine Ridge Publishing. German, Dutch, Australia/New Zealand, Korean, Taiwan (complex Chinese) and Indian, Sri Lankan, Nigerian and Turkish rights sold; all other rights available.

Self-Help / Motivational, Spiritual, Health

• It Was Only a Moment Ago William E. Hablitzel, M.D.

Would it surprise you to learn that your doctor knows very little about healing? Doctors know a great deal about treating symptoms and curing disease to be sure, but the incredible need masquerading as aches, pains, and fatigue that fills medical offices and emergency rooms far too often slips by unattended and unnoticed. It takes special teachers and a willingness to listen to learn about healing.

Dr. William E. Hablitzel knows of such things. Practicing physician, medical educator, and award-winning author, he has discovered his greatest teachers of healing within the lives he has cared for. In It Was Only a Moment Ago, Dr. Hablitzel shares the lessons that can be learned through illness, loss, and even death. From the lives of others the reader discovers that illness resides in the energy that we invite into our lives. So too, does healing. This is the book that anyone who has ever been ill wishes their physician would read.

A master storyteller, Dr. Hablitzel’s work has spread around the world. His first book, Dying Was the Best Thing That Ever Happened to Me, has been published in countries spanning five continents. An associate professor of clinical medicine at the University of Cincinnati College of Medicine, he has been recognized for excellence in teaching. His work in rural healthcare was honored by resolutions passed by the Ohio State Senate and the Ohio House of Representatives.

2013 Eric Hoffer Award Winner.

“This Man is an Angel disguised as a Medical Doctor—His words will Touch Your Soul.”—Dr. Wayne W. Dyer.

“Highly recommended for anyone who needs a reminder of what the compassionate heart of medicine can be like.”—Larry Dossey, M.D.

Hardcover, 300 pages. U.S. price $24.95.
Sunshine Ridge Publishing. All rights available.

Self-Help / Personal Growth, Development

• Becoming What You Want to See in the World, New Expanded Green Edition
Mary Claire O’Neal

Recipient of Foreword Magazine’s Book of the Year Award, Best Books Award, and the Indie Excellence Award.

An engaging book that helps readers examine the ‘physics’ of happiness and how to ignite and revive passion and joy in life. With personal stories and practical tools and activities, this book offers help from a seasoned professional in leading a more fulfilling, balanced, and meaningful life.

It contains clear and concise principles and plans of action for our busy lives and centers around tools for compassionate communication, within ourselves and with others, that anyone can use to improve one’s outlook and live an inspired life.

“This book could not have come at a more opportune time. A ray of hope amid chaos....”—Arun Gandhi, President, M.K. Gandhi Institute for Nonviolence.

Mary Claire O’Neal is a communications consultant, motivational speaker and actress who has worked and studied at the Royal National Theatre in Britain with Sir Anthony Hopkins.

Softcover, 104 pages. U.S. price $14.95. River Birch Publishing, LLC. Greek, Indian and Nigerian reprint rights sold; all other rights available.

Self-Help / Relationships / Mind, Body, Spirit

• You Might Be A Narcissist If...How to Identify Narcissism in Ourselves and Others and What We Can Do about It

Lisa Charlebois, LCSW; Paul Meier, MD; and Cynthia Munz, LMSW

Can help determine if the stress in relationships with family, friends, or at work is unknowingly caused from narcissism in yourself or others. Narcissism is quite common; most of us have some narcissistic tendencies.

The book was written by two psychotherapists and a psychiatrist with decades of both personal and professional experience with narcissism. It is filled with many interesting examples taken from the authors’ or their clients’ lives that clearly demonstrate narcissism.

A Narcissism Questionnaire and practical suggestions are given for dealing with narcissism whether it’s in your spouse, a co-worker, or even yourself.

Softcover, 98 pages. U.S. price $13.95; eBook $9.99. You Might Be A Narcissist If... All rights available.

Self-Help / Spirituality

• 12 Secrets for Healing, Sacred Wisdom to Enrich the Healing Life
William E. Hablitzel, M.D.

You do not have to be a physician to be a healer. Some of the world’s greatest healers have never attended medical school. Their healing secrets are hidden in the lives that surround us, lives woven from the threads of spirituality, touched by the mysteries of the universe, and filled with stories to tell.

Dr. William Hablitzel, award-winning author of Dying Was the Best Thing that Ever Happened to Me, shares the lessons gleaned from his greatest teachers—the patients he has cared for. In their stories are found secrets that can help us discover meaning and happiness, secrets that can make ordinary life extraordinary, and secrets that can teach us how to heal.

William E. Hablitzel, M.D., an internist in southern Ohio, started his career as a firefighter-paramedic for his hometown fire department. As an associate professor of clinical medicine at the University of Cincinnati College of Medicine, he has been recognized for excellence in teaching. His work in rural health care was honored by resolutions passed by the Ohio State Senate and the Ohio House of Representatives. When not seeing patients or teaching, he is drawn to the hills of Appalachia where he finds birds, photographs nature and cherishes the silence.

Softcover. U.S. price $14.95. Sunshine Ridge. All rights available.

Self-Help / Stress Management, Mind-Body

• Balancing Act: Reflections, Meditations, and Coping Strategies for Today’s Fast-Paced Whirl
Adele Ryan McDowell, Ph.D.

This Amazon best-selling resource is indispensable for handling stress and strain. It is practical, comforting, and humorous—a must-have for your bedside table.

Norm Shealy, M.D., Ph.D. says Balancing Act “speaks to the soul.”

Bernie Siegel, M.D. proclaims, “...can help to inform you and inspire change.”

Dr. Frank Lawlis says, “is well worth reading...”

Carol Ritberger, Ph.D. declares, “This is one book you will read multiple times...”

Psychoneuroimmunology has taught us that emotions, thoughts, bodily sensations, and yearnings of the soul work hand-in-hand. In Balancing Act, you will find reflections, meditations, and coping strategies grounded in psychoneuroimmunology, cognitive-behavioral, transpersonal and positive psychologies, big picture spirituality, and humor to help you make it through the day—as well as the night.

The author is psychologist Adele Ryan McDowell, Ph.D., who likes looking at life through the big view.

Softcover, 177 pages. U.S. price $13.95; eBook $9.99. White Flower Press. All rights available.

Suicide

• Making Peace with Suicide: A Book of Hope, Understanding, and Comfort Adele Ryan McDowell, Ph.D.

Written by Adele Ryan McDowell, Ph.D., a practicing psychotherapist and former hot-line responder, Making Peace with Suicide provides a comprehensive and compassionate look at the world-wide phenomena of suicide. The book is designed for those who have lost a loved one to suicide; those considering suicide; and those who work with or counsel the bereaved and the suicidal.

Making Peace with Suicide analyzes the factors and circumstances that can lead to suicide and sheds light on the phenomena of suicide vis-à-vis teenagers, the military, post-partum depression, as an end-of-life choice, and asks if addiction is a form of slow suicide. Dr. McDowell provides a seven-step healing process and explores suicide and the soul and today's global energy of suicide.

Dr. McDowell is a psychotherapist with 30+ years' experience. Her work focuses on helping clients find hope and balance in the face of crisis, trauma, and grief. She has worked with suicide, domestic violence, and sexual assault crisis hotlines; survivors of Hurricane Katrina, 9/11, the Joplin Tornado, and the Newtown shooting; clients struggling with addiction as well as those moving through profound life changes such as grief and health challenges. Dr. McDowell is also the author of Balancing Act: Reflections, Meditations, and Coping Strategies for Today's Fast-Paced Whirl. You can learn more at <http://AdeleRyanMcDowell.com> and <http://AdeleandthePenguin.com>.

“No topic could be more timely than suicide. This remarkable book addresses people who have contemplated ending their lives as well as those who have to deal with the aftermath of those who succeeded. But it will also be invaluable to mental health workers and military chaplains, especially those who deal with young people who have been bullied and veterans with PTSD. For such a complex topic, Dr. McDowell's writing style is reader-friendly and the stories she presents may well evoke tears. Her wise recommendations include teaching self-mastery techniques to help people cope with the stress of a success-oriented society. I have read many books on this sensitive topic, but none with the breadth and scope of Making Peace with Suicide.”—Stanley Krippner, PhD, co-author, Personal Mythology: The Psychology of Your Evolving Self and Haunted by Combat: Understanding PTSD in War Veterans.

“Finally. A book that explains—in the simplest of terms, in a non-sensational, non-academic manner—the phenomenal, worldwide epidemic we call suicide. If you read one book on mental illness and how it affects our world, READ THIS ONE!”—Ginny Sparrow, Editor, American Association of Suicidology.

Softcover, 232 pages. U.S. price $15.99. White Flower Press. All rights available.

For additional information or a reading copy of any title, please contact:

Loris Essary, Director
International Titles
931 East 56th Street
Austin, Texas 78751-1724 USA
Email: loris@internationaltitles.com
www.internationaltitles.com